2017 Wyoming Football Recruiting Class Announced Cowboys Look to Build on Recent Success With Outstanding Group of New Recruits

Laramie, Wyo. (Feb. 1, 2017) -- Building on a season that saw them win the Mountain Division of the Mountain West Conference and play in the 2016 Poinsettia Bowl, the Wyoming Cowboy Football program announced its 2017 recruiting class on Wednesday.

Cowboy head coach Craig Bohl made the announcement of Wyoming's 24 new recruits in a 3 p.m. press conference held in the Wildcatter Stadium Club & Suites at War Memorial Stadium.

This year's class breakdown includes one graduate transfer and 23 high school seniors. The 10 states represented in this year's Cowboy recruiting class include: Wyoming, California, Colorado, Illinois, Nebraska, Ohio, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wisconsin.

The national letter-of-intent signing period for football began on Wednesday, Feb. 1 and will conclude on Saturday, April 1.

"Our coaching staff is excited about the composition of the 2017 signing class," said Bohl. "We had a plan that was spearheaded by  Gordie Haug, our recruiting coordinator. Our coaches worked extremely hard. We not only did evaluations off tape, but we were in these young men's high schools and homes.

"We did extensive academic evaluations, as well as athletic evaluations that included a lot of time spent on-site at high school games watching these young men play.

"Many of these young men are the top individuals that we evaluated at their specific positions. I think we not only met our needs but we exceeded our needs with this class.

"While we try to utilize all the newest technology, including social media and other methods to communicate with and evaluate our prospective student-athletes, we also incorporate a lot of old school approaches in terms of building relationships with high school coaches and parents and other constituents to get to know these prospects.

"At the same time, we try to provide all these young men and their families as much information as we can about the University of Wyoming and our football program, so that they can make the right decision for their futures."

Among the individuals who signed national letters of intent with Wyoming on Wednesday were:

- Three of the Top 10 ranked recruits from the state of Nebraska;
- Two of the Top 20 rated recruits from the state of Colorado;
- Two of the Top 25 ranked recruits from the state of Wisconsin;
- One of the Top 25 rated recruits from the state of Oregon;
- Two of the Top 40 ranked recruits from the state of Washington;
- Five of the Top 85 ranked recruits from the state of Illinois;
- Three of the Top 175 ranked recruits from the talent-rich state of California;
- And a two-time Wyoming Super 25 selection in offensive lineman  Logan Harris from Torrington, Wyo.
- Two sets of high school teammates are part of the 2017 Wyoming recruiting class.  Keyon Blankenbaker and  Jared Scott played together at Oak Park-River Forest High School in Oak Park, Ill.  Ryan Gatoloai-Faupula and  Victor Jones were teammates at Inderkum High School in Sacramento, Calif.

Offensively, the 2017 class features five offensive linemen, three wide receivers, two running backs, one tight end and one quarterback. On defense, four defensive linemen, three defensive backs and two linebackers. The Cowboys also signed a punter, long snapper and one signee described as an athlete.

Additional information on the 2017 recruiting class, including videos of this year's class is available on the Wyoming Signing Day Central page at GoWyo.com and on Twitter @wyo_football.
